Supreme Judicial Court.

October Term, 1904.

The October session closed Tuesday forenoon, having been six days in session. This is one of the record short terms, but a large amount of business has been crowded into these days. Cases have been settled, hearings on different matters held, prisoners sentenced and in scarcely one if any of these matters there have been much less than at any term recently. There have been very few jury trials—two civil and one criminal case. In the line of divorces the term is almost a record breaker, no fewer than 27 having been granted. The court officers and especially the clerk have been hustled, not alone during the actual sittings but before and after them.

The case of M. L. Kimball trustee against R. L. Melcher which was begun Thursday morning was a short one. In the fall of 1900, Edgar F. Hodgdon then in debt to R. L. Melcher, contracted with the Dutton Lumber Co. through Mr. Melcher, one of the stockholders, to cut a certain amount of timber, but before the completion of the contract Hodgdon went into insolvency. During the winter Melcher advanced him certain sums amounting to $193.28, and these items were April 24, 1901, placed upon the books of the Lumber Company as cash by R. L. Melcher. It was claimed that this was a preferred payment to Melcher on his personal account. The judge ordered the jury to bring in a verdict for the defendant as there was no contest as to the facts. The case goes to the law court on exceptions. Kimball & Sons for plaintiff, Bisbee & Parker for defense.

Most of the civil cases assigned for jury trial were settled out of court, and only one more case was tried before the jury. This was Friday morning and was Lewis E. Smith against Orin Stevens, both of Oxford, for false imprisonment. Last winter Dr. Stevens secured judgment on a bill, before a trial justice in Oxford, for $18. Smith was subsequently cited to appear before a dispositive commissioner, Seth W. Fife, at Fryburg. He did not appear, and a capias was issued, on which he was arrested and taken to Paris jail. It appearing that he was not personally served with the summons, he was released after being in jail a few hours.

Stevens claimed the bill was given for collection to an attorney and he knew nothing more of it until he was informed of the arrest after Smith was taken to jail. The evidence being all in at the suggestion of the court the case was taken from the jury and marked law report. Purington and Swasey for plaintiff, Wright & Wheeler for defense.

Judge Symonds of Portland appeared for the libelee not to contest the suit but to protect him in certain matters of settlement. The case was not long and divorce was granted.

"A Radcliffe Window."

Under the above head the Portland papers say:—The window of Dean Brothers' store in Monument square, may well be called Radcliffe window, for it is filled with a very pretty display of this popular shoe for women in both button, lace and oxford. The window is artistically decorated with autumn leaves and the shoes placed about to the best possible advantage for their display. In the center is a handsome illuminated sign with the name Radcliffe shoes. The whole effect is very attractive.

The heat was so intense that the brick in the arch over the "Dutch oven" in the new boiler recently put in by C. B. Cummings & Sons steam heating plant, crumbled so that they had to be replaced by fire brick. This prevented them from having fire for a day or two while the change was being made. Fortunately the weather was not very cold.

A Twenty Year Paint.

Would you like to hear of a 20-year paint?
Mr. James A. O'Neill's house, Henderson, N. C., was painted 20 years ago with Devco and never painted again till last year; it then looked better than common paint in half that time.
The reason is: Devco is all paint and true paint, while the common paints are part true and part false. Don't pay to monkey with paint.
And Devco costs less than any of 'em; not by the gallon, of course; by the house and year. That's how to reckon it. Go by the name.

WEST PARIS.

Stearns-Lane.

The event of last week was the marriage on Wednesday, Oct. 12th, at 1:30 p. m., of two of our most popular and well known young people, Chester Howard Lane, Jr., and Mabel Louise Stearns. The couple had first met at the Stearns residence, purchased home on Park street in the lower part of the house owned by George Farnum, and were married in the bay window of their parlor. The marriage ceremony was performed in an impressive manner by Rev. D. F. Nelson, and the little sister of the bride, Mary Stearns, dressed in white, was ring bearer. The bride was charmingly dressed in a dainty gown of white silk with lace trimmings. Only the immediate family and Mrs. Nelson and little daughter Ruth were present.

After the ceremony refreshments of Harlequin ice cream and a variety of nice cakes were served. One kind worthy of mention was the wedding cake, which was three years old, and as nice as when first made. It was a part of the cake made for the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. Howard Lane, the parents of the groom, and it was fitting that it should honor the wedding of their only son. The wedding gifts were numerous and valuable, and consisted of silverware, china, oil painting and two or three checks for a substantial sum.

Mr. and Mrs. Lane left on the west bound 4 p. m. train for a short wedding trip. There was quite a gathering of friends and acquaintances at the station, who showered the happy couple with rice, confetti, and hearty good wishes. Our community will be glad to have these newly married young people make their home here, and will unite in wishing them the blessing of a long and happy married life.

Apples of first quality are selling for fifty to sixty cents among neighbors aside from expense of barrel. We hear buyers are paying one dollar, reckoning barrels at 35 cents and calling apples 65 cents. Some of our best farmers say they can't bother with them but will feed them out to the cattle. My first Grange dinner was absorbed Oct. 12, at Nezinscot hall, where the New Century Pomona convened with Buckfield Grange. On the arrival of the morning train there was quite a procession lined down the street from depot. Granges were represented from Andover, Peru, West Peru, Dixfield, Canton, East Sumner, Minot, East Hallow, Turner and North Buckfield, while J. A. Roberts represented Norway Grange by a brief address, brief on account of the short time intervening between trams.

About 20 joined Pomona and this and the dinner which did not come off until about 2 o'clock left but little time for other exercises. Solon Chase was there to speak but time would not permit. I noticed the overseer of Buckfield Grange by reason of his arduous duties in looking down till late, was furnished like music, like a man-o-war-man.
